

Looking for academic support and a great career in STEM?

Join the GS- LSAMP Program!

Essex County College is a member of the Garden State - Louis Stokes Alliance for Minority Participation (GS-LSAMP), a non- medical Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) program funded by the National Science Foundation (NSF).

Eligibility

- U.S. citizen or permanent resident
- Majoring or intending to major in a STEM Field
- Part-time or Full-time student
- LSAMP supports participation from groups that have been underrepresented (African Americans, Latinx, Native Americans, Native Pacific Islanders etc.

Benefits

- Learning Community
- Workshops on academic support and career readiness
- Stipend ($) opportunities
- Research Experience in your area of interest
- Cross-campus peer mentoring with students from 4-year colleges
- Learn About Summer Internships in(STEM) fields

Complete your application today!

Go to www.essex.edu/gs-lsamp/ and click on the GS-LSAMP application